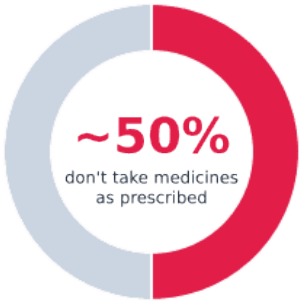
BIOMEXA IVF CARE · PARTNER BRIEF FOR IVF CENTRES

See every IVF patient between visits, not just at them.

Most of an IVF cycle happens at home. Biomexa keeps your patients and your team connected through every injection, check-in and report - on WhatsApp, with no app to install.

The gap every centre knows



Adherence is the weak link. WHO estimates about half of patients on long-term treatment don't take medicines as prescribed. In IVF the margin is smaller: a late trigger shot or skipped stimulation dose can cost a cycle.

- Missed or mistimed injections
  often discovered only at the next scan
- OHSS warning signs reported late weight gain or breathlessness reaches you days later
- Reports scattered across chats
  photos on personal WhatsApp, mixed with everything
- Endless anxious calls
  especially during the two-week wait

How it works - five steps, patient phone to your dashboard

1
Joins your centre

Patient picks your centre and consents; you accept.

2
You set medicines

Every dose and the trigger shot reminded on WhatsApp.

3
Daily check-in

Weight, pain, bloating, bleeding in ~1 minute.

4
Reports & review

Uploads go to one queue with an AI draft reading.

5
Virtual follow-up

Video, audio or chat at a time you confirm.

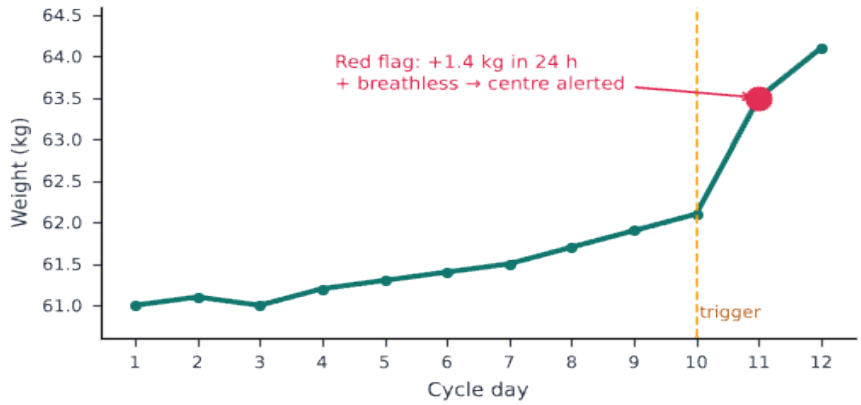
Where Biomexa matters most in the cycle

Pink = key at-home stages: dose reminders, daily check-ins and early-warning alerts do the most work here.

What your team sees on the dashboard

24	2	5
Active cycles (sample view)	Red flags	Reports to review

OHSS signs caught the same day, not at the next scan



Every daily check-in is scored. Sudden weight gain, breathlessness, severe pain or heavy bleeding are flagged by severity and the patient rises to the top of your list.

Every dose reminded and confirmed

Patients tap Taken or Not taken. A missed dose gets a gentle follow-up; an unconfirmed trigger shot gets reminders at 2 h, 30 min and on time, then escalates to your team.

Charts on this page show an illustrative sample cycle, as displayed in the Biomexa IVF Centre Dashboard. Patient details are not real.
